SOLDIERS HERE GAVE 'LEGACY' TO OUR NATION

Today's armed force members "are custodians of the legacy that was handed down by the men who fought for their political convictions on the soil of Gettysburg. To these men of our armed forces is entrusted the task of defending the nation which was reborn and strengthened through the sacrifice of the men whose deeds remain alive in the monuments that stand at this nation shrine," Lt. Gen. George W. Read Jr., commanding general of the 2nd U.S. Army, said Sunday evening at the memorial exercises held at the high school auditorium as part of the observance of the 97th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Taking part in the program with General Read were members of the 2nd Army Major Command Chorus which recently won first place in a contest for choruses of Army units from throughout the world.

The chorus, under command of 1st Lt. William G. Reichart and directed by Pfc. Robert S. Tilton, opened its program with the 16th century canon "When Jesus Wept" and included among its numbers "The Army Blue," dedicated to General Read who will retire from the Army this month after serving since 1917.

Other Offerings
"Now Let Every Tongue" by J. S. Bach, "No Man Is An Island" and "Blue Tailed Fly" were among other numbers that pleased the audience.

Herbert Jennings of the chorus provided a special program of folk songs and guitar playing during an intermission for the chorus. He sang a number of what he termed "white spirituals" which developed in the tent meetings "of the religious revival through the west in the late 19th century."

Castro Cabinet Ready To Seize All U.S. Property

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's cabinet ministers met today for early morning hours today. They were believed drafting orders for seizure of American property to be issued when President Eisenhower cuts the Cuban sugar quota.

Eisenhower was expected to act promptly on the authority Congress gave him to suspend all or part of the still unfilled 1960 quota of Cuban sugar imported into the United States. Eisenhower can also reduce or suspend the American purchases of Cuban sugar at premium prices for the first three months of 1961.

In retaliation, the bearded Cuban revolutionary has threatened to take over the property of Americans "down to the nails of their shoes."

No Announcements

The ministers met at the presidential palace at 2 p.m. Monday.

Some were still in the squat, white three-story building at midnight.

RECALL EVENTS OF BATTLE AT 3 PROGRAMS

The firing of Civil War muskets resounded in the Little Round Top and Wheatfield areas Saturday afternoon, exactly 97 years since the afternoon when Longstreet's troops rolled over Sickles' Third Corps and threatened for a time to end the Battle of Gettysburg on its second day as a Confederate victory.

The shots were fired as salutes by member of the North-South Skirmish Association under command of Russell Norgan of Company K here, at three programs held as a series commemorating the 75th anniversary of the dedication of three of the monuments that dot the field.

A fife and drum corps of the North-South Skirmishers accompanied the firing squad and led it in brief parades to the 9th Massachusetts, 96th Pennsylvania and 27th Connecticut markers.

200 Witness Events

Approximately 200 spectators witnessed the three programs. At the 9th Massachusetts monument on the northeast slope of Big Round Top Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park historian, outlined the development of the Battle of the Second Day at Gettysburg and told how the members of the Ninth from Boston were among the reserve troops brought up to plug holes in the Union line when the Third Corps was shattered and the Confederate troops assailed Little Round Top and were then driven back. The monument is along a wall constructed by the men of the Ninth to help defend the position on July 2 and 3.

At the 96th Pennsylvania monument on the northwest slope of Little Round Top, Dr. Harry Whisler, 33, Hanover. Damage was estimated at $1,200 to the two cars.

Castro Cabinet Ready To Seize All U.S. Property

An official told newsmen then no announcements would be made and they could go home.

While the ministers were conferring, Conrado Becquer, head of Cuba's half-million sugar workers, told his forces to stand ready to seize the 36 sugar mills in Cuba owned by Americans. The Castro regime already has taken over almost all American-owned agricultural land.

Castro's official family exuded confidence the government would overcome the threat of an oil shortage arising from the seizure of the island's three foreign oil refineries and the companies' cut-off in Cuba's normal supply of Venezuelan oil.

WILL REBUILD ASPERS PLANT BY SEPTEMBER

The Co-operative Fruitgrowers of Adams County is planning to rebuild its Aspers warehouse which was destroyed by fire a week ago. Co-operative officers met with their architect last week to map rebuilding plans.

Meanwhile arrangements are being made to have a peach grading line set up in another building and in service by the third week of July.

The co-operative is continuing its operation with a minimum of interruption despite the fire. Spray materials and other fruitgrowers' and farmers' supplies were destroyed in the blaze. Two loads of new spray material were received on Wednesday and other stocks are being received daily, a co-operative spokesman said today.

Office Saved
Although threatened by the blaze, the co-operative's office which adjoined the warehouse was saved. Also saved was a cold storage building a scant seven yards away.

John Peters, York Springs, president of the co-operative, said that insurance would cover much of the loss.

It is expected that the warehouse can be rebuilt by mid-September, in time to handle the apple crop. The burned warehouse housed the co-operative's fruit grading equipment.

Three-Day Holiday Traffic Deaths Set Record Of 438

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic — 438
Boating — 34
Drowning — 124
Miscellaneous — 110
Total — 706

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic deaths set a high mark for a three-day celebration of Independence Day, and brought a call for action to curb such slaughter.

Fatalities that hit and held an average of five an hour surpassed the previous record of 407, set in 1955, before the holiday period ended at midnight.

Belated reports today boosted the toll. But it fell short of the record for any three-day holiday observance, the 609 piled up at Christmas in 1955.

The National Safety Council today stated:

Need Fast Action

"Public officials and all others dedicated to safer highways must act and act fast in an increased effort to reduce this highway

Hepford Will Get Hearing Wednesday

Edward Wilcox Hepford, 47-year-old Harrisburg High school teacher, waited in the Dauphin County jail today for his hearing Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in police court in Harrisburg for the murder of Richard M. Mattingly, 31-year-old Gettysburg tailor.

The shooting took place about 6 o'clock last Wednesday morning in Harrisburg. Mattingly's body was found with bullet wounds in the abdomen and right forearm when his partly submerged auto was pulled from about four feet of water in the Susquehanna River along Front St., near the Taylor bridge.

His clothing dripping, Hepford, a World War II veteran who ran for Congress two years ago, was taken into custody the same morning and admitted to Harrisburg police he had shot Mattingly. Police have failed to establish a motive but learned the two men had spent several hours together in a Second St. diner until they left there in Mattingly's car a short time before the shooting.

Mattingly was buried here Saturday.

FIREWORKS CHARGE

A 16-year-old Smithburg R. 2 Md., youth was placed in detention in Adams County Monday night charged by Fairfield Field of Police Wilbert Flemming with discharging fireworks in Fairfield.

slaughter — not only on holidays but every day."

The Associated Press tabulations—now on a 50-state basis—showed only three states, Alaska, Delaware and New Hampshire, reported no motor vehicle deaths.

Hawaii, a new state, had only two traffic deaths. Ohio and California had 30 or more.

The council, which had estimated 370 traffic fatalities for the period that began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday issued a statement saying: "If this country received warning in advance that a national catastrophe would strike on a given weekend, bringing death to more than 400, does anybody doubt that emergency measures would be taken to prevent such a thing from happening?"

"Yet enough people continue to ignore appeals—not to stay home, not to give up driving, but merely to drive so as to save their own lives and the lives of others—that these appalling holiday tolls continue to prevail and to grow."

"Gen. Armistead" again placed his hat atop his sword to lead the Confederates into the Angle and "Cushing" again died by his cannon while the 71st and 72nd Pennsylvania, the 69th Pennsylvania and other Union troops stood firm and then pushed back Pickett's men, during the re-enactment of Pickett's famed charge on the battlefield Sunday afternoon.

National Park Superintendent James B. Myers estimated the spectators at "between 25,000 and 30,000." They lined and roped off areas from the High Water Mark to the Codori House. They lined the wall and fence along the north side of the field adjoining the Angle; filled the Pennsylvania monument and the observation tower at the Brian house; filled the west side of Hancock Ave. behind the Angle and jammed the Lee Memorial and the North Carolina monument areas and even Little Round Top to witness the spectacle.

More than 500 uniformed men took part in the opposing "armies," including approximately 400 from the North-South Skirmish Association approximately 100 from the Sons of Veterans Reserve, and 50 from the National Guard.

Cannon Explodes

There were 451 Boy Scouts, Explorers and leaders who helped with spectator control and state, local and fire police plus park rangers and officials were kept busy parking cars and keeping traffic moving during the event.

The local fire department ambulance crew and a nurse, Mrs. Philip Hughes, were kept busy with people who fainted from the crush of the crowd and the realism of the performance plus one youth who was removed to the Warner Hospital unconscious after striking his head in a fall.

An unannounced bit of realism was supplied when one of the cannon representing Cushing's battery blew apart when it was fired and the members of the Cleveland, Ohio gun crew acting the part realistically, sprawled as if dead on the ground. Sons of Veterans Reserves nearby helped two women who fainted, believing the accident had really injured the men.

Followed '63 Pattern

As in the real charge 97 years ago, the Confederates under command of "General Armistead," portrayed by Lt. James Orndorff of the local National Guard; "General Garnett," Lt. Paul E. Blettner, and "General Kemper," Lt. Robert E. Harner, came from around the Codori house into the field before the Angle and High Water Mark.

The Confederates "bunched up" about 30 paces from the wall before Armistead came through the crush and, waving his hat aloft his sword, led the attack into the Angle. And, as 97 years ago, the 71st fell back to the line of the 72nd and then held and eventually moved forward, driving the Confederates from the Angle.

More than 15,000 rounds of ammunition were expended by the Union and Confederate infantry. Great numbers of cannon "shells," bags of black powder, were exploded during the half hour cannonade Sunday which preceded the mock charge by Pickett's men.

In 1863 there was an artillery duel preceding the actual charge nearly a century ago.

Had Mimeographed Instructions

Lt. Donald Doersom, commander of the local National Guard, was in charge of operations for the re-enactment. He and the leaders of the different units walked through the re-enactment at 9 o'clock Sunday morning so each leader would know exactly what was to be done. Each of the participants was also given a mimeographed sheet of instructions as to what he was to do during the event.

The scene assumed a Civil War air at 12:15 p.m. when approximately

STATE READIES NEW COUNTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new type of electronic counter will be used by the State Highways Department to acquire more accurate information of traffic volume.

Ten of the new devices, called radar counters, will be spotted at six locations this summer, the department said Monday.

The new counters are faster and more accurate than counting equipment now in use, the department said. They will be mounted on wires strung between steel posts, one unit to a lane. Traffic in each lane will be counted and registered separately.

Locations listed

Locations planned for first use of the new counters:

The Erie Throughway in Springfield Twp.; State Route 88 at Churchville; U.S. Route 22 at Churchville; Allegheny County; west end of the John Harris Bridge, Harrisburg; U.S. Route 22 east of Harrisburg; U.S. Routes 1-13 bypass at Lancaster, Delaware County.

Later, the department said, the devices will be placed on these roads which presently are in planning or construction stages: Interstate Route 70 west of Washington; the Penn-Can Highway, north of Scranton; somewhere along the Keystone Shortway, and the Carlisle Bypass.

Each child should be accompanied by an adult for enrollment on opening night. Graduation exercises will be held at the close of the two-week period.

GRAPPLERS FIND
YORKER'S BODY

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—State police grappling crews found the body of Rufus Pezo, 44, of York, Sunday in the Susquehanna River near the Lancaster-York inter-county bridge.

Pezo, a musician, had been missing since early Sunday when James McCarty, of Columbia, reported his boat had struck the partially submerged hull of Pezo's smaller boat.

Columbia deputy coroner Dr. Charles Hill said an autopsy would be performed today to determine the cause of death. He said Pezo's right temple was severely lacerated.

Pezo's wife said her husband had intended to go to their island cottage on the Susquehanna after playing with a band Saturday night.

WOODBURY, N. J. (AP)—An auto carrying four sailors back to their Philadelphia base from a July 4th weekend in Georgia ran into the rear of a parked truck today, killing one of them and injuring the other three.

Killed was Robert Bosley, 19, of Vintondale, Pa.

Injured were the driver of the car, John Fennell, 19, of Glenville, Ga.; Joseph Kovac, 19, of Kathleen, Ga.; and Raymond Simpson, 19, of Douglasville, Ga.

to bring Soviet crude oil here under the oil-for-sugar barter agreement signed with the Soviet Union.

Authoritative sources said eight tankers, owned or chartered by the Communists, are rushing a total of 60,000 tons of Soviet crude oil to bolster the dwindling stocks at the refineries. This represents about a week's supply for Cuba, which has little hydroelectric or coal facilities and depends on oil for most of its power.

One of the eight tankers was a big new Chinese Communist ship. The 19,500-ton Peking, which Moscow radio Monday said was being readied for an oil run to Cuba.

A few hours later a tanker named Peking collided with a Norwegian tanker off the coast of Tunisia. French officials at Bizerte said they were informed the tanker was Russian and was carrying Soviet oil for Cuba, but Lloyd's Register of ships lists only the Chinese Communist tanker of that name.

mately 300 Union infantrymen paraded from Meade's headquarters to take their places along the Union center. The cannon crews went into position about 1:30 o'clock on both the Union center and on W. Confederate Ave.

The Confederates were in place south of the Codori house by 2:15.

Ceremony Follows
Fire company walkie-talkies were used by Capt. Doersom to relay his commands to the widely spread "troops" and thus coordinate the actions of the participants with the narration given over the loud speakers.

The event was preceded by a concert by the Gettysburg High School band under direction of Robert Zeigler. The band also provided music during the narration and at the close of the program.

After the Confederates were driven back they reformed and took places along the south avenue in the Angle while the northern troops took position on the north avenue of the Angle. The Gettysburg VFW color guard led a contingent consisting of the color guard, a Lincoln impersonator, a Union and a Confederate soldier, who represented the reunion of the nation after the war, a firing squad of three Union soldiers and three Confederates and two Explorer Scouts through the massed troops to the flag staff where a 34-starred flag of the type that was used during the Battle of Gettysburg was raised to the top of the flagpole.

The firing squad then fired a salute while two members of the Gettysburg High School band sounded taps.

The three companies of the Sons of Veterans Reserve under command of Col. O. G. MacPherson and Major Chester Shriver were from New Oxford, Middletown, Harrisburg, Reading, Littleton and Gettysburg. The more than 30 companies of the North-South Skirmish Association under general command of Lawrence Crouse and Russell Norgan were from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia.

Stanley C. Rogers, Scout field executive in charge of the Boy Scouts participating, reported 89 leaders and 362 Explorers and Boy Scouts took part. They included Explorer Post 3, Windsor Twp; 19, 20, and 23, York; 48 and 122, Glen Rock; 67, Dover; and 78 and 79, Gettysburg, Troops 10, 12, 15, 34, 94 and 134, York; 25, Yorkshire; 29, Red Lion; 48, Glen Rock; 54, Round Town; 67, Dover; 38, Dillsburg; 71, Biglerville; 75, Aspers-Gardners-Idaville; 73, 78 and 160, Gettysburg; 77, Bonneauville; 84, Littlestown; 102, 129, 112 and 114, Hanover; 118, Pleasant Hill; 123, Wintertown; 127, Abbotstown; 143, West York; 146, Rouzerville, and 124, Hunters-town.

During the afternoon the Kiwanis Club set up a replica of the Pennsylvania Monument to urge donations for the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association.

National Park Superintendent Myers estimated that his men and the fire police, etc., parked more than 9,000 cars at various fields in the battlefield near the Pickett's charge area.

Cameras were present from CBS-TV, WMAR-TV and WGAL-TV and from a dozen newspapers. Many spectators also appeared to be using cameras. A special period was held at noon during which 30 Union and Confederate "soldiers" performed hand-to-hand fighting at the wall of the angle for the benefit of both the press and TV cameramen and amateur cameramen.

He also resigned his post as professor of penal law at Havana University.

Rich Heritage

General Read told the 400 present, "The men who fought at Gettysburg were Americans all. They did not contend against each other at the command of a monarch or a dictator. Nor did they fight to acquire more territory. They fought to decide an issue which each side believed to be for the good of the nation. After that issue was decided the men who had fought so bitterly against each other combined their efforts to build a united nation. The heritage they handed down to us is a nation that is rich not only in material things but also rich in the spiritual values which are the rights of all human beings."

"While we treasure these values we know that they are denied to many human beings around the world through the workings of sinister forces."

"These forces of international communism use whatever means will serve their purpose to dominate the free world. They are economic pressures, psychological tactics to poison the minds of men against democracy, subversion to incite men to overthrow freely elected governments and political trickery to bring independent nations under its yoke and, still more evil, use of military aggressions to subjugate free nations."

Combine Resources

"In the face of this many-sided challenge the United States and the free nations have no recourse but to combine their resources against common danger in a collective security system involving 45 countries. My duty tours in Europe, particularly as commander of Allied Forces Southeastern Europe under NATO, enabled me to witness the remarkable results achieved through our economic assistance."

"It is true that the United States has borne a major share of the cost of building the free world's military defenses. It is true also that the cost to our country has decreased as the free nations were able to improve their economic condition."

"Another benefit of the program is that the United States can deploy its own comparatively small, but effective, forces to maximum advantage, both for deterrence and for defense action that may become necessary. Our combat units of the Army, Navy and Air Force are stationed overseas as basic elements of our forward strategy. In reserve in the United States are highly mobile, strategic forces that could be sent wherever they might be needed. Part of this reserve is the Strategic Army Corps, or STRAC, which remains constantly on the alert. This spearhead is backed by other active combat divisions which would follow if the situation required it. Rounding out the Army's share of national defense and more closely related to domestic security is its part in continental air defense."

Backed By Russians

"While the strength of our active Army, which approximates 800,000, may seem small to perform these several jobs, we must not lose sight of the fact that it is backed by our highly trained and effective reserve components. They are an integral part of the one Army team upon which our country depends. In the event of war, our active Army can be reinforced quickly by 27 Army National Guard and 13 Army Reserve divisions together with many other smaller type units. These forces are in a higher state of readiness than ever before in the peacetime history of our nation."

"Those of us who make the Army our career are proud of the manner in which the members of the National Guard and the Army Reserve are keeping themselves prepared. These are dedicated American citizens who give unselfishly of their time to insure that we remain strong and free. These are the men who will decide the victory on the field of battle as did Hancock's men on the field of Gettysburg. Regardless of any device of modern warfare that might be called into use, our American soldiers are the men who must meet the enemy on the land and fight him into submission to achieve the victory."

Cleveland Trims Yankees' Lead By Sweeping Double Bill Twice; Orioles Split

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians, who looked like a bunch of dead in-juns two weeks ago, suddenly have trimmed the New York Yankees' lead in half and trail by just 1½ games in the American League race after their second doubleheader sweep in two days.

With right-hander Gary Bell pitching a three-hitter for his first victory in almost a month and Jimmy Piersall back on the job, the Indians made it five in a row with a 4-0 and 7-4 sweep of their July 4 doubleheader with the Kansas City A's. It was Cleveland's eighth success in nine games and 12th victory in 15 after tumbling out of the lead while losing eight of 10 weeks ago.

The Tribe closed in as the Yankees, despite a combination of unbeaten Jim Coates and four home runs, lost 9-8 at Washington in the only single game on the holiday bill in the majors. Coates escaped defeat, but the Yankees' winning string was chopped at six games by the Senators, who had just lost three in a row to Cleveland.

Orioles, Sox Split
It's the 24th time New York has led the AL on July 4—and the Yankees have gone on to win the flag all but four times in the past.

Third-place Baltimore, blowing six-run leads in both games, split at Boston. The Red Sox won 10-7 before the Birds bounced back in an 8-6 victory. The Detroit Tigers took two from Chicago's White Sox, winning 3-0 and 3-2 with Jim Bunning pitching a three-hitter in the opener.

Piersall Gets Big Hit
Bell (7-6) allowed nothing but singles, walked two and struck out four while the Indians banged Ray Herbert (3-9) for nine hits. An infield hit by Marty Keough, who had been subbing for Piersall in center field, and a two-out double by Harvey Kuenn gave Cleveland the winning run in the first inning.

Piersall, ordered home for a rest a week ago, returned in the second game and scored Kuenn with a two-out single in the eighth for a 5-3 lead. Johnny Romano's second home run of the game

Trainers Must Stay
"But I'll be around," he said. "They might want to contact me." During the Wimbledon tournament I talked a lot with Herman David, chairman of the All-England Club. We agreed on one thing—that whether professionals play or not, the traditions of Wimbledon and what it stands for must remain untouched.

The Paris meeting will have to decide what kind of prizes will be offered in an open tournament. The All-England Club has said it will not give big money prizes. Kramer has said his professional stars will not compete unless the prizes make it worth their while. David said no decision will be taken on prize money at Wimbledon until the international federation has met.

"We confidently expect they will sanction open tournaments, though the proposal to have a class of authorized amateurs entitled to receive unlimited expenses will, I hear, be defeated," David said.

NEW POLICY IS FAVORITE

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Ralph Lowe's New Policy today appeared to be the colt to beat in the $100,000 added Hollywood Derby, with newly arrived Victoria Park declared from the Saturday race.

And the $100,000-added Hollywood Gold Cup Handicap a week later was beclouded when the highly regarded Bagdad was beaten back to third place in Monday's $50,000-added American Handicap at Victoria Park, the Canadian 3-year-old who whipped Tompon by five lengths in his last start at Delaware Park, developed swelling in the front legs. The trouble apparently stemmed from his 11-hour air jaunt to the West last week.

If all goes well, trainer Horatio Luro said, the colt may race in the closing feature of the meeting, the Sunset Handicap July 25. The American Handicap was a stunner for a holiday crowd of 50,147. Prize Host, a 7-1 shot, won the race by three-quarters of a length over Twentyone Guns. More than a length back was the odds-on favorite, Bagdad.

HURLERS MUST COME THROUGH FOR LEADERS

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The National League leader at nightfall on the Fourth of July usually goes on to win the pennant. But that's just another dusty old record as far as the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates are concerned.

The Pirates virtually banned clubhouse pennant talk Monday although they stayed 3½ games ahead by defeating Milwaukee 7-2 after the runnerup Braves had captured the opener of a doubleheader 7-6 in 10 innings.

Can the Pirates remain in front?

Long Way Ahead
"Let's not talk about that now," said Manager Danny Murtaugh with a smile. "There's a long, long way to go. We've played less than half a season—only 72 games—and anything can happen."

"Any pennant is a long way off. We can't just think about the Braves and San Francisco. Any one of the first six teams can do it. It's going to be a tough fight all the way to the end."

Although stunned by the blowing of a five-run advantage in the Pirates' loss in the opener, Murtaugh was pleased by the route-going six-hit performance of veteran southpaw Harvey Haddix in the nightcap.

Depends On Pitching
"He pitched himself a beautiful game," Murtaugh said. "And we certainly needed it. We didn't have a pitcher go all the way for us for a dozen games. Our bullpen guys can use a little rest."

"That's one of the things which will decide where we finish. Our pitching has to hold up. If it does, we'll be okay."

Over in the Milwaukee clubhouse, Braves' Manager Charlie Dressen also was keeping his fingers crossed in fervent hope that his pitching will straighten out.

Braves Pitching
"If I can get a game without relieving, we'll be all right," Dressen said.

"We haven't been right with both Carl Willey and Juan Pizarro nursing sore arms," Dressen explained. "But Willey says he's all set and Pizarro told the doc he's okay so maybe we can get started again."

Although given a 6-1 lead, Pittsburgh right-hander Bob Friend faltered as the Braves scored two runs in the eighth and a pair more in the ninth of the first game. Relief specialist Elroy Face surrendered a game-tying homer to Del Crandall in the ninth and then the deciding run on Al Spangler's run-producing single.

The Braves' pitching fell apart in the second game as Dressen employed five hurlers. Haddix gave up a pair of tallies in the first, but was in command the rest of the way in defeating the Pirates for the fourth straight time this year.

Smith Smashes Stock Car Mark

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For an almost nonstop performance in the Fourth of July Firecracker stock car race, Jack Smith, husky Spartanburg, S. C., driver, holds a new 250-mile race record and $10,950 in prize money. Smith finished a car length and a half in front of fellow townsman Everett (Cotton) Owens and logged an average speed of 146.832 miles per hour for 100 laps around the 2½-mile Daytona International Speedway.

He made only one fueling stop and changed no tires. His 1960 Pontiac attained speeds up to 170 miles an hour in closing minutes, when he grabbed the lead from Owens on the 96th lap.

Glen (Fireball) Roberts of Daytona Beach set the previous record at 140.581 m.p.h. in the first Firecracker 250 last year.

PUTTING WINS FOR "MICKEY"

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP) — Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., the power hitter, was champion of the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. again today because she also can drop birdie putts.

Miss Wright opened the final round of the sixth annual tournament Monday with a 20-foot putt for a birdie on the first hole. She got four other birdies during the day, one a 42-footer on the 16th hole, and wound up with a three-under-par 71.

Her forecasting was as good as her golf. She had said at the start of the 72-hole tourney that a four-under-par 292 would win it, and she finished with exactly that to pick up the $1,500 first prize. She became the first two-time winner of the LPGA title.

Louise Suggs of Atlanta, also a former champion, couldn't stand Mickey's birdie pace and finished with 73 for 295 and $1,150 second money.

Defending champion Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., shot a 78, for third place at 301 and claimed $600.

22 Killed In Penna.'s Holiday Weekend Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Six children drowned and 14 persons were killed in traffic accidents in Pennsylvania over the long July 4th weekend, pushing the state's death toll to 22, one of the largest in the nation.

It was the second highest number of drownings for a weekend this year, reflecting the warm weather and holiday atmosphere which sent hundreds seeking refuge in water activities. On the non-holiday weekend of June 17-19 seven persons drowned.

Among the drowning victims were two small Somerset County girls. They were Carole Ann Dill, 9, of Holsopple, and Kathryn Jane Gastly, 12, of Somerset R. 6. Police said the girls were wading in Laurel Hill Creek near Somerset Sunday when they apparently stepped into a hole. Three other girls were wading with them. They were rescued.

Bridegroom Killed

Two children died after being hit by cars. Andrew Irwin, 5, of Philadelphia, was struck by an auto Friday night as he played near his home. Donald Russell, 6, of Phoenix, Ariz., was injured fatally Saturday in front of his grandfather's home near Pittsburgh, where the boy was vacationing.

Frank Tallon, 18, of Monroeville, was killed in an auto accident Sunday 24 hours after being married. Police said his auto collided with another car near Florence as he tried to pass a bus. His bride, Geraldine, suffered minor injuries.

Joy Virginia Burdge, 3, of Blairs Mills, Huntingdon County, was killed Saturday when a wheel flew off a racing car and struck her as she watched the stock car race at Port Royal, Pa.

Tractor Crushes Man

Bernard Hartman, 46, of Sewickley R. 2, died when his tractor fell on him at his farm Friday night.

By comparison with the July 4th toll, there were 22 highway deaths and six from other causes on the New Year's weekend.

The count for the July 4th weekend began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Monday night. The toll mounted rapidly Saturday and Sunday but fell off Monday when most persons were returning home on crowded highways.

Drowns In Pool

The other victims: Boiling Springs — Donald Maxwell, 6, of Harrisburg, drowned Monday night in a swimming pool in this Cumberland County town.

Philadelphia — Renee Bannerman, 7, drowned Monday in Gustine Lake during a family outing. She was found floating face down in three feet of water.

Hawley — Edward G. Anderson, 15, of Butler, N. J., drowned Saturday night in Lake Wallenpaupack near this Wayne County town. He had tried to retrieve a ball that had rolled off a dock.

Perryopolis — Philip Schrock, 23, of Layton, killed Saturday night when his car missed a curve and overturned on a rural road near this Fayette County town.

Greenville — David P. Merwin, 23, of Canton, Ohio, killed Sunday near here when his car hit a concrete bridge abutment. Police said Merwin apparently had dozed at the wheel.

Shippensburg — Mrs. Amanda Gettle, 61, of Shippensburg Star Route, killed Friday night in a two-car collision north of here. Police said a car skidded into the wrong lane, hitting the car in which she was riding.

Other Auto Deaths

Philadelphia — Albert J. Mellon, 65, of Philadelphia, killed Friday night when the car in which he was riding skidded and hit a pole.

Philadelphia — Salvatore Torre, 57, of Philadelphia, struck and killed by a car Friday as he climbed out of a car and walked around to the driver's side to get some tools.

Greensburg — Lawrence Gantt, about 23, of Jeannette, killed Saturday night near here when the car in which he and four other men were riding went off the road, hit some railroad ties and overturned. The four others were injured.

Cyclist Killed

White Haven — Stephen E. Pompella, 36, of White Haven, killed Saturday near here when he lost control of his motorcycle and ramed a guard rail. His son, Stephen Jr., 12, riding with him, was injured slightly.

McKeesport — Virgil Greco, about 50, of Elizabeth, killed Saturday night near Large when two cars and a pickup truck collided. Four others were injured.

Allentown — Frank W. E. Decker, 13, of Emmaus, drowned Sunday in Little Lehigh River in nearby Lower Macungie Township while on a picnic with his family. He had been using a tube to swim in the river and his body was found in only a few feet of water.

Other Fatal Crashes

Greensburg — Catherine Bush, 45, of Youngwood, killed early Monday when a car in which she was riding crashed into a bridge railing near here.

Pittsburgh — Edward E. Wilcox, 32, of Braddock, killed Sunday when his car smashed into a bridge abutment and utility pole in suburban Pleasant Hills and overturned. Six other men in the car escaped injury.

Hazleton — George Surim, 23, of McAdoo, killed early Monday when the car in which he was riding swerved off the road south of here, overturned, and skidded on its top into a utility pole. The driver was seriously injured.

KENNEDY SAYS EMPHATIC 'NO' TO MR. TRUMAN

By GERALD MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy has replied with an emphatic "no" to Harry Truman's suggestion that he drop out of the presidential race for 1960.

"I do not intend to step aside at anyone's request," the Massachusetts Democrat declared Monday. "I was the only candidate to risk my chances in all the primaries — the only one to visit every state."

Kennedy, 43, told a nationwide television and radio audience he is ready for the presidency because a new generation of leadership is needed to cope with new problems and new opportunities.

Won't Withdraw Now

After reading a prepared statement, he answered questions at a news conference.

Thus the front-runner in the Democratic party nomination race replied to the former president's statements that he is too young and inexperienced for the nation's highest office.

"I have encountered and survived every kind of hazard and opposition," Kennedy emphasized. "I do not intend to withdraw my name now, on the eve of the convention."

Implies "Rigging"

Truman made his charge Saturday and threw in the implication that the party's nominating convention, which opens July 11 in Los Angeles, seemed rigged in Kennedy's favor.

To that, the senator replied: "To the extent that I have anything to do with it, it will be an open convention."

Former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman, supported by president by Truman in 1956, and Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin said they felt the reply would win Kennedy new support.

Opponents Silent

At Independence, Mo., Truman stated he didn't watch the Kennedy telecast and couldn't comment.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, a contender for the nomination who has echoed Truman's charges of a stacked convention, also declined immediate comment.

And you'll want DONALD DUCK to entertain you on your vacation. Just call Gettysburg ED 4-1131, give your name and your vacation address and you'll have DONALD DUCK and THE GETTYSBURG TIMES delivered to your doorstep every day.

Kennedy interrupted a Cape Cod vacation to fly here for his rebuttal to Truman. At his side at the crowded news conference at the Roosevelt Hotel sat his pretty wife, Jacqueline, looking even younger than her 29 years.

Cites Other Young Leaders
About his own youth, the senator explained that young men throughout history — including Washington, Jefferson, Pitt, Napoleon and Columbus — have been notable successes.

He said he had been 18 years in the service of his country — as a World War II naval officer and as a member of congress for 14 years.

"I have traveled in every continent and country," he added, "and in the last few years alone, in every one of the 50 states — more than any other active presidential contender now or in his history."

Earnings Mixed In First Half Of '60; Hope For Rally

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Early reports on first half 1960 profits of American business indicate the totals when finally in will drop below the year ago figures. But net income after taxes are likely to be tallied as well above most other first six months and perhaps as second best.

The trouble isn't so much that some industries have run into a slowdown in sales or a squeeze on profit margins this year. They have. But the big factor is that the year-to-year comparison runs up against a booming 1959 first half, especially in the April-May-June quarter.

That 1959 period set a record for any quarter in business history with profits running at an annual rate of 27 billion dollars.

This was up 75 per cent over the previous year. The second best quarter was chalked up in 1956, also for a second quarter, at 23.7 billion dollars.

The final figures on this year's April-May-June period are given little chance to equal last year's record, although they may push out 1956 for second honors.

An early hint on how first-half earnings are running comes from 100 companies who already reported. These are firms whose fiscal periods are earlier than the calendar years that most corporations follow.

Of the first 100 reporting, 58 bettered last year's figures and 42 fell behind. But those showing declines include some really steep drops that more than offset those who are ahead by varying, but usually modest, amounts.

Profits Skidded
This is especially true of the farm equipment companies, most of whom have already reported. They had a very good 1959 first half. But sales have been slow this year and profits skidded.

As a whole the 100 companies report $225,966,000 net profits, a drop of 15 per cent from the $266,396,000 the same companies reported last year.

Kennedy, looking tanned and fit, told reporters he expects 600 votes in early balloting and conceded he may have to do better than that. A total of 761 votes is needed for nomination.

COFFMAN JEWELERS

ported a year ago. In each year there were 12 companies reporting net losses.

Until now profits have made a year to year gain in each quarter since late 1958, the first half of which was a recession period. But the percentage of gain has fallen almost steadily since the record 1959 second quarter.

On "Hard Hit" List
Among industries especially hard hit in recent months are steel, aircraft and railroads. A drop in orders for the first two, and declining business plus rising costs for the rails, has brought them, as groups, well down since the start of the year.

Construction equipment and building materials also have felt a sales lag, and so have some machinery makers. Consumer durable sales have lagged, although makers of radio and TV sets report good business and profits. So do the food, textile and tobacco industries.

Banks as a whole are increasing their profits this year. The auto industry, despite some first-half profit problems, has high hopes for the rest of the year.

So, to borrow a word from the stock market observers, earnings are mixed. A fourth quarter rally is hoped for. And a large number of corporate heads say they expect final 1960 figures to better 1959.

DIAL YOUR OWN LONG DISTANCE CALLS WITH AMAZING NEW DIRECT DISTANCE DIALING!

for telephone subscribers in GETTYSBURG

DDD Service Starts
July 10-3:01 A.M.

Starting Sunday, you can dial almost anywhere... without the assistance of an operator!

For example, to call station-to-station to any dialable point shown on the map (home area), you dial your Direct Distance Dialing number, and the Directory number of the party you are calling.

To dial outside of this area, see the instruction booklet you have received from the Telephone Company.

With revolutionary new DDD service, you dial far or near as easily as calling your next door neighbor!

Temporarily some nearby non-dialable points (listed in the instruction pamphlet) will be reached by dialing "9." To make person to person and station to station calls to distant non-dialable points you will continue to dial "0" for the long distance operator. Important... there is no change in local dialing procedures.

FORMER DRESS ON TV HAVE MADE CHANGES

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"You can't win with scared money," said Joseph E. Levine, short man with wide pockets.

"When you spend it, don't think of it as money. If you do, you're dead."

Levine, a former Boston dress salesman, is currently one of the financial marvels of the ailing movie industry.

"Hercules" An Example

By lavish promotional expenditures he has been able to build up a series of relatively obscure low-cost foreign films into a staggering payoff at American box-offices.

Example: He bought the Italian-made "Hercules" for $125,000, invested that much again in adding new sound effects and fresh titles, then poured $1,150,000 into a whirlwind advertising campaign.

The result: "Maybe it didn't satisfy the critics," said Levine, "but the 80 per cent of the people who go to the movies loved it. It has grossed over 15 million dollars so far—and more than 18 million people have seen it."

More Hercules

In the next 30 days Levine has announced he will spend $1,300,000 promoting his latest venture—"Hercules Unchained." He believes this is the largest amount ever spent to promote a single film in that space of time.

Levine, whose personal hero is P. T. Barnum, operates on the theory that it is better to spend yourself rich than to save yourself into bankruptcy.

"Many good pictures come out of Hollywood and fail because nobody knows about them," he said. "They aren't exploited properly."

Like Circus Business

"Pictures are a circus business, and you have to use circus techniques. If you don't advertise today, you don't sell—and I don't care what your product is."

Some cautious movie industry figures believe Levine's big-spending formula will in the end be self-defeating. He is confident it won't.

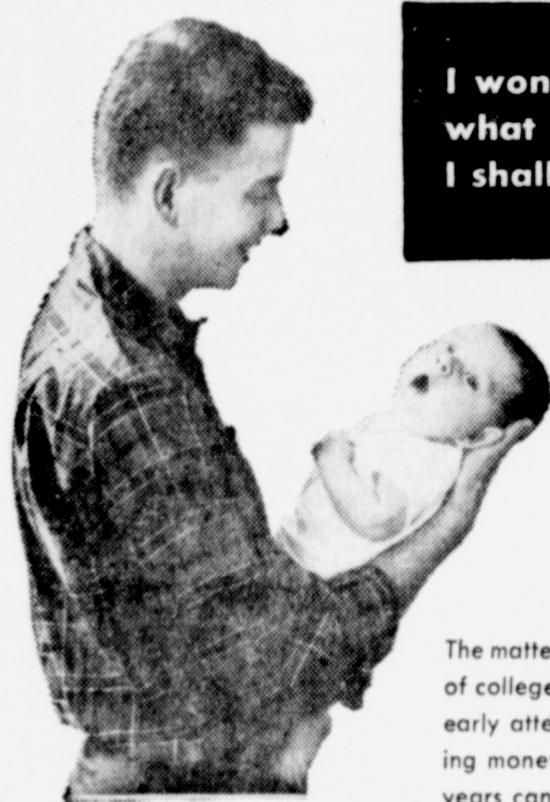

Joe, one of a family of 13 kids, shined shoes and sold newspapers as a boy. He quit school at 14, once owned a chain of dress shops, has been a regional picture distributor for 25 years. He is pretty sure he knows people and what they want in entertainment.

No Longer Poor

His program has been so successful over the last five years that canny foreign producers now have jacked up the price of their films.

Poor no more, Levine isn't worried by this. He is arranging to coproduce abroad more of the turgid, colorful spectacle movies he favors.

When aides question his big budgetary splurges, the gregarious little showman dismisses their objections with a genial wave of his stubby paw.

I wonder what university I shall attend?

You can't say that this young fellow isn't giving the matter his early attention!

The matter of meeting the cost of college really does require early attention. Only by saving money regularly over the years can the average family hope to foot the bill.

REAL ESTATE MARKET VALUE IS UP TWO PCT.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The total market value of taxable property in Pennsylvania's 2,277 school districts went up nearly 2 per cent in 1959, the State Tax Equalization Board reports.

Market values totaling $33,200,000,000 for 1959 were certified by the board Friday. The 1958 certification was $32,700,000,000.

The Public Instruction Department uses the market value figure determined by the board to compute state subsidies for each of the 2,277 school districts.

Reimbursement Basis
The higher the market value the lower the amount of state aid. Valuations certified Friday will be used to reimburse school districts for expenditures in the 1960-61 school year and will be payable during the 1961-62 school year.

John Bevec, chairman of the Tax Equalization Board, said the changes in the 1959 figures over the 1958 "were restricted to properties going on and off the tax assessment rolls... in conformity with a recent amendment making such restrictions effective in the odd numbered certification years."

Bevec reported that 503 districts had no change from the previous year, 1,357 increased less than 5 per cent, and 150 districts had decreases. The remaining districts had increases of more than 5 per cent.
